'Special Business' Zone Hassle Flares

Critical Commuter-Freeway Problem Apparent, But Solution Lacking

By DICK OSBORN

Everybody is aware of the impending bus commuting problem in Orinda and the ramifications of that problem for the other Central Contra Costa towns as the freeway program is extended, but nobody seems to be able to do anything about it.

Pacific Greyhound Lines has expressed concern for the commuter but can offer no helpful suggestions. The State Division of Highways is sympathetic, but "must remain within the law." The Public Utilities Commission "can only act in an advisory capacity" and the Contra Costa County Commuters Association has "no funds."

Here is the problem as it exists today:

EASTBOUND BUS commuters will be in good shape when the Orinda Interchange is completed as buses will be able to pull off the highway in the vicinity of Davis Road and swing right back onto the freeway again, according to B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer in charge of District IV. It is the westbound traffic that will provide the trouble.

There are no facilities on the north side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard for buses to pull off the highway and state law does not permit buses to stop on a freeway to load or discharge passengers.

FACILITIES on the Moraga side of the Interchange are limited by lack of parking space near the freeway. Commuters fear that if the bus stop is located too far from the freeway, "skip-stop" service might be initiated, and that "would be a tragedy," according to Charles Wood, director of the Commuters Association.

"Skip-stop" service would only permit every third or fourth bus to stop at Orinda, increasing an already aggravating seat problem for Orindans.

This "skip-stop" could be invoked by the PUC upon request of either the bus company or individual commuters who feel that they are being delayed as buses thread the cloverleaf to pick up Orinda commuters.

SIMILAR PROBLEMS appear to be facing commuters in Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill as freeways are built and local "pick-ups" are fenced off.

However, there is hope for the commuter. Legislation is pending that will permit the State Division of Highways to use gas tax funds to construct "pull-off" ramps for buses.

Such a ramp was included in the plans for the Orinda Interchange, but could not be financed. At a recent meeting of Greyhound, the commuters, County Road Commissioner Victor Sauer, the highway department and the PUC, it was stated that such a "pull-off" ramp would cost $12,000.

The state could not spend the funds, Greyhound was unwilling to do so, the commuters did not have the money and the county was advised by the commuters that it should not spend the funds.

SUCH BUS STOPS were built by the state in the Los Angeles area along the miles of inter-twining freeways there, but the transit companies refused to pay the bill when it was presented after construction.

As a result, the beautiful concrete bus shelters are still chained off and cannot be used.

As far as official opinion goes, this is what representatives of the concerned bodies have to say:

"As far as I know there has been no policy on bus turnoffs, although the commission has favored the planning of bus turnouts when freeways are planned," said Ralph Bell, public relations representative of the PUC.

"IT HAS BEEN URGED that turnouts be made part of the original construction program so that mass transportation can be speeded for the benefit of the public. Construction of turnouts would result in more efficient use of freeways since one bus can carry as many passengers as 30 automobiles now average. That is enough automobiles to cause traffic congestion for an entire block."

The 1952-53 fiscal year annual report of the PUC said, "It is suggested that in constructing freeways, consideration should be given not so much to moving automobiles as to moving people, so that maximum efficiency may be obtained in use of freeways."

PETER E. MITCHELL, president of the PUC, said, "The commission is aware of the situation at the Orinda Crossroads and is using its good offices to attempt to work out a satisfactory solution to the problem."

Meeting Called To Work Out Commute Shelter

Representatives of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and the Contra Costa County Commuters Association will meet Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at a private home in attempt to work out the bus stop situation for Orinda.

Jack Block and Charles Wood of the Commuter group will work with Walt Friberg, Horace Breed and Tom Horton of the chamber to establish a spot for the locataion of a shelter.

They will try to arrive at a location that is not so far removed from the interchange so as to bring about "skip-stop" service, yet is located so that commuters will be able to park their cars within walking distance and not interfere with parking by shoppers.

Eight New Cases Of Polio in Area During This Week

Twelve new cases of polio have been reported throughout thec ounty this week, eight of them in Central Contra Costa County, the County Health Department announced yesterday.

Of the eight, three are in the Walnut Creek area (one inside the city limits, two outside), three in Pleasant Hill, one in Lafayette and one in Orinda.

Countywide total since January 1 is 138 cases, of which 45 have been in Central Contra Costa. Last year at this time there were 43 cases throughout the county since January 1, 16 of them in Central Contra Costa County.

During the past three weeks, 40 new cases have been reported in the central portion of the county.

The high incidence of polio served to dramatize the need for the emergency March of Dimes which will start Monday and will continue through August 31. .

Smith Withdraws Setback Request For Orinda Oaks

The application of R. L. Smith for 5-foot setbacks for 10 lots on the south side of Crescent Drive has been withdrawn, according to Associate Planner George Brenner.

The Planning Commission Wednesday night accepted a letter from Smith and the Remlo Construction Company asking that the application be withdrawn and stating that setback requirements will be complied with.

ORIGINALLY SMITH'S application had asked for land use permits for 10 lots, but was amended to eight before the application was withdrawn.

Attorney George Gordon of Martinez represented approximately 40 people from the Orinda Oaks subdivision who objected to the application and requested that the Planning Commission deny it.

THE ORINDA OAKS group objected on the grounds that it would serve as the opening wedge for a substandard tract of 85 homes, of which this application would be for the first 10.

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association was instructed to "give what assistance it could to Orinda Oaks."

Here's How to Walk Across The Interchange

For those citizens who have been concerned about how they will get across Mt. Diablo Boulevard when the interchange is completed, there is reassuring news this week.

According to Don Young, resident engineer, here is how you go about it.

A ramp will go to the underpass from a point approximately in front of the Wallace Real Estate Company. A pedestrian sidewalk will parallel the road under the highway and come out on a traffic island about 400 feet north of the bridge.

Pedestrians will then have to cross the highway which will carry the traffic westbound to Moraga, but there will be a stop sign there.

Application OK'd

James A. Brown's application for a land use permit for a 20-foot setback for addition to residence on Las Vegas was granted by the County Board of Zoning Adjustment Tuesday night.

The 20-foot setback, in a Residential-Agricultural zone, will be on Lot 508 and a portion of Lot 507, Haciendas Del Orinda Unit 5, fronting 151 feet on the south side of Las Vegas, approximately 150 feet west of Via Floreado.

ARTISTS' MARKET, outlet for artists' works in the Diablo Valley, is now in its new quarters at the Werness Interiors building, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, and the preview opening will be held Sunday, 4 to 7 p.m. Helping get the place in shape are, left to right, Blair Werness, member of the board of Outdoor Art Shows, which sponsors the Artists' Market; Mrs. Frederick Confer, chairman of the Artists' Market, and Mrs. James C. McGeehan Jr., membership chairman of Outdoor Art Shows. —SUN Photo by Mattson

Doyle Says Lafayette, W. C. By-Passes Can Start in 2 Years – If Funds Okayed

Assemblyman Donald Doyle said yesterday that work on both Lafayette By-Pass and Walnut Creek By-Pass can be advanced two years if the California Highway Commission allocates sufficient funds this fall for the 1955-56 fiscal year.

Doyle's statement was made as he and other area leaders prepared to attend the August 26 meeting of the Highway Commission in Sacramento, at which they will urge budgeting of money for construction of Lafayette By-Pass.

"Up until now the talk has been 1958 for possible start of Lafayette By-Pass," he said. "If monies are available, the schedule can be advanced two years, and both projects could be undertaken at about the same time."

The assemblyman added that, although actual construction of Lafayette By-Pass would probably get under way before similar work on Walnut Creek By-Pass, preparatory work for Walnut Creek By-Pass would be able to start at about the same time.

"The main thing is that there should be enough money for both jobs," he pointed out.

The August 25-26-27 sessions of the Highway Commission will be the last before the commissioh will deliberate on the 1955-56 budget, Doyle stressed.

Arrangements have been made for Doyle and a delegation from the Walnut Creek - Lafayette - Orinda area to make presentations at the August 26 meeting.

"EACH YEAR THE commission allocates money under the Mayo formula, so much per registered vehicle, to each county," Doyle explained. "Those amounts total 65 per cent of the commission's allocations.

"The remaining 35 per cent is 'free money,' allocated to areas which the commission feels to be mostly in need.

"Contra Costa's amount under the Mayo formula has totaled 10 million dollars during the last three years — over 3 million a year.

"The 'free money' has resulted in the county receiving 6 million dollars more over the 3-year period, or 2 million more each year.

"THAT'S WHY IT'S so important to 'make the pitch' now for Diablo Freeway to get the major part of the Contra Costa allocation for 1955-56.

"At the June 24 commission meeting, the commission advised me that no action would be taken on allocations until after the August meeting, and asked me to have our group there at the August meeting."

AMONG THOSE who will appear with Doyle are Chairman Charles Nelson and Direcor Elliot Hartman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, Walnut Creek City Attorney John Nejedly and Vance Perry, secretary-manager of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Walnut Creek group will make its own presentation on Walnut Creek needs, besides "plugging" for Lafayette By-Pass.

B. W. BOOKER, assistant state highway engineer, District IV, State Division of Highways, said yesterday:

"We are precising our plans in filing rights-of-way on both projects, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

"Our general plan is this:

"We think of Orinda as the first and worst bottleneck. That is being eliminated, and Orinda Interchange should be completel early next year.

"THE SECTION WHICH will connect Orinda Interchange to Lafayette By-Pass isn't as bad as the situation in Lafayette, so Lafayette By-Pass would be the second phase for which we'd recommend funds to be made available.

"Regarding the Walnut Creek area, the Walnut Creek-to-Monument stretch seems to be much worse a problem than the Walnut Creek By-Pass area, so it would seem that the Walnut Creek - to - Monument section should be next in line.

"After that, Walnut Creek By-Pass would be the logical next step.

"THE WALNUT CREEK-TO-Monument section is only two lanes. Walnut Creek itself has Oakland Boulevard and Main Street as two major arteries."

Jack Daniels, right-of-way agent for the State Division of Highways, said that if 1955-56 funds are allocated by the commission this fall, the Department of Public Works might call for bids on the Pleasant Hill Road Interchange around next January.

He disclosed that about 170 parcels are involved in right-of-way problems for Lafayette By-Pass. Approximately 125 parcels have been appraised for right-of-way. Of these, some 55 property owners have been contacted.

PART OF THE RICK'S Drive-Inn property is where there will be a frontage road, he said. Negotiaoions are going on with Claudio Garibotti, the owner.

Negotiations have also been under way with Anthony Lagiss of Contra Costa Realty and with Acalanes Market.

The state is also negotiating for the J. T. Lucas auto agency property at Diablo Boulevard and Oakland Boulevard, for right-of-way in connection with the Walnut Creek By-Pass project.

DANIELS SAID he was unable at the moment to verify a report that the Burma Restaurant property had been purchased for $68,000 for Walnut Creek By-Pass right-of-way.

"At least 125 parcels will be involved in the Walnut Creek By-Pass rights-of-way," he said.

Commuters Complain of Changes Without Notice in Bus Schedue

Greyhound service was the main topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association board of directors at Acalanes High School Tuesday evening. Latest change in service was found to be an unannounced adjustment effective Monday morning whereby the Martinez-Berkeley and Danville-Oakland schedules were set to run 10 minutes earlier, now originating at Martinez at 6:50 a.m. and Danville 6:55 a.m.

In addition the Concord-Oakland schedule running just ahead was set up 10 minutes earlier to avoid conflict with the other two, thereby leaving Concord at 6:50 a.m. instead of 7 a.m.

PROTESTS OVER lack of notice were made by San Francisco commuters as well as Berkeley and Oakland passengers, the former having found themselves affected by reason of the complicated transfer arrangement between buses by passengers of different origins and destinations, just as much as the other commuters.

A side result was found to be curtailment of Oakland service to one bus every half hour during peak morning commute rush so far as passengers in the area between Concord and Walnut Creek are concerned.

Investigation on Wednesday disclosed that Greyhound had made these changes on Monday without notice to the Commuters Association and apparently without notice to the Public Utilities Commission either.

A GREYHOUND representative explained that questionnaires had been filled out by passengers on the Martinez and Danville buses and the notice of change published only on those buses starting August 3.

The handling of these changes by Greyhound is considered quite unsatisfactory by Commuter Association officials and the entire matter will be investigated further with the PUC it was promised.

This is similar to the manner in which the Concord-San Francisco service on July 21 was changed when almost every other bus was cancelled out from Concord to Walnut Creek and operated only from Walnut Creek to San Francisco, a commuter spokesman said. Despite the assurances of Greyhound management that it would have no effect or consequence on San Francisco commuters from the area north of Wainut Creek, the association is receiving numerous complaints from members who find their reduced service works a hardship on them. This matter, too, is to be investigated further, said the association.

ARTHUR WEATHERBE, chairman of the service committee, observed that the anticipated reduction in number of commuters usually found caused by vacations during summer months is slight compared with previous summers. "Crowding of commute buses continues to be fairly heavy," he said, "and in September, after the start of school, it is inevitable that there will be a sharp increase in patronage which will require more bus schedules. We can only hope that Greyhound will be prepared for the increase; if not we shall look to the PUC for prompt relief."

The directors also commented favorably on The SUN's campaign to relieve high congestion by increased use of car pools and buses to replace solitary drivers during heavy traffic periods, and agreed to continue their cooperation in the campaign.

Orinda Boy Shot While Engaged in 'Practical Joke'

Wallace B. Adams, 17, of 3 Scenic Drive, is in the hospital today as a result of a "prank" Wednesday night.

Adams, believed to be a burglar, was shot by Edward L. Kessler, 609 Santa Fe Avenue when he refused to stop after taking a garden hose.

Kessler's shot entered the car driven by Adams, creased his neck and severed five tendons in his hands.

Here is how the shooting occurred.

ADAMS AND HIS friend Roger Dexter, 17, of 7 La Cuesta, went to look at the home formerly occupied by Adams family and presently occupied by Kessler.

At approximately 9 p.m. they walked into the back yard of the residence and were seen by Betty Kessler, 15, who was baby sitting next door. She told her father, but when he investigated the boys had left.

However, they returned about a half hour later and were again spotted by Betty, who called her father. He got a .32 caliber rifle and went out the front door.

He said he saw the boys dragging his garden hose to a car parked in front of the residence, but they saw him and ran to their own car. He told them to stop or he would shoot but they paid no attention and he fired one shot.

THE BULLET ENTERED the door jamb on Adams side of the car, creased his neck, severel five tendons in his hands and crashed out the windshield.

Dexter said that they threw the garden hose out of the car about two blocks further on and hadn't realized that Adams had been hit.

When they discovered the wounds Dexter wrapped Adams' hands with a handkerchief and drove him to Children's Hospital of the East Bay where attendants notified Oakland police of a shooting.

However, the boys told police a fictious story of driving in the Berkeley hills and being fired upon by a sniper. Oakland officers notified the Berkeley police who questioned dozens of people in the Indian Rock Road vicinity until they were called off the false trail by the boys, who decided to reveal the true story.

THE TRUTH CAME out when they were confronted by a report by Kessler to Albany police on the shooting.

Kessler told Albany police that he hadn't realized that the boys were so young or he wouldn't have fired. He was misled by their size, he said. Dexter is 6 feet 4 and Adams 6 feet 1. Both are students at Acalanes High School.

Adams and Dexter said that they had only planned a practical joke and were going to put the garden hose in a parked car when they were discovered.

Police are still investigating, but said they doubted that any charges would be issued.

Planners OK First Altarinda Estates Unit

Approval for the first unit of the Altarinda Estates subdivision was given Wednesday night by the Planning Commission, pending further discussion on street width and access roads.

Objections had been registered to the approval of any unit until the problem of an entrance road could be solved. Frank Draeger, engineer for Altarinda Inc., told the Planning Commission that the subdividers would agree to place the permanent access road in the vicinity of the grade separation that will be established on Mt. Diablo Boulevard when the freewey is constructed.

ORIGINAL PLANS had called for access at the junction of Charles Hill Road, but objectors pointed out that this is already a hazardous corner.

Draeger said that present plans call for putting in the access road from Charles Hill Road for the time being, but that the permanent entrance to the subdivision will be built when the freeway is done.

That way, he explained, the subdividers will know exactly where to construct the road.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE going to continue on the matter of street width in the subdivision, with Draeger requesting relief from the required 60 foot road width because of the hilly nature of the terrain.

The first unit will include 32 lots of an average size of 150 feet by 210 feet.

Overpass Traffic To Shift Sept. 1

Westbound traffic passing through Orinda is expected to be shifted to the nearly completed north half of the interchange about September 1, according to Resident Engineer Don Young.

Construction on the south half of the bridge and highway cannot start until traffic can be diverted.

In the meantime, spot paving and work on on and off ramps is progressing so that there will be as little congestion as possible when traffic lanes are shifted.

Eventually the north half of the bridge will carry only west bound traffic while the south half will carry only east bound vehicles.

Completion of the interchange is still expected sometime in the spring of 1955.

Four File For Sewer Position

Four men will compete for two posts on the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District Board of Directors, as indicated by petitions filed before the Wednesday 5 p.m. deadline.

Incumbent directors M. H. Stanley and Campbell MacPhail of Lafayette will defend their posts against Richard J. Mitchell of Pleasant Hill and Raymond W. Fisher of Orinda. The election will be held September 20.

MacPhail, a methods examiner at the Oakland Army Base, was recently appointed to the board to fill out the unexpired term of Elliott Johnson who resigned because of his health.

Stanley was appointed 18 months ago to fill out the term of W. W. Malott.

Mitchell is an engineer with California Research Corporation and Fisher is a civil engineer.

School Room Bids 'Too High'

Orinda School trustees Monday night opened bids for construction of a teachers' room at Orinda School, but rejected them as being "too high."

According to Superintendent of Schools Joseph Sheaff, plans for the 16 by 18 foot addition will be returned toarchitect Jack Buchter to see if anything can be incorporated. Bids were for $9774.80 and $10,200.

Sheaff explained that any construction in excess of $5000 must be submitted to the state for approval.

Lots and Lots Of Fog, No Rain

Although there was no rain this week, Orindans may have thought there was because of the thick damp fog hovering about the hills.

Some of the typical East Bay weather seems to have invaded Orinda, because temperatures were decidedly lower than normal for this time of year.

Here they are:

	High	Low
August 5	74	50
August 6	89	46
August 7	84	49
August 8	83	44
August 9	83	43
August 10	73	48
August 11	63	49

Hearing Continued to August 25 In Order to Get Legal Opinion

Sharp disagreement on whether the land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road is to be rezoned from Residential-Agricultural to Special Business or to Retail Business caused the County Planning Commission Wednesday night to continue the rezoning hearing to August 25.

Argument flared early in the hour-and-three-quarters session when John B. Reilley of the East Bay Municipal Utility District legal staff asserted that EBMUD had understood the rezoning proposed by the commission was to be Retail Business.

Commissioner Arthur Young said that at the June 23 hearing on EBMUD's Crossroads-area rezoning application, where Retail Business rezoning for the Pine Grove was denied, he did not understand a Special Business zone to be specified for the west side of San Pablo Dam Road.

He asked Commissioner George Honegger if he had understood the commission's proposal for nearly 25 acres to be Special Business.

"OF COURSE," Honegger replied. "That was the point of the whole discussion. That was the intent of the commission."

Commissioner E. H. Ward, acting as chairman in the absence of J. P. Connors, stated that that was his understanding, too.

James Hupp, acting chairman of the Orinda Association's Orinda Planning Committee, told the commission that his group had also understood Special Business rezoning to be the intention of the commission.

"WE ARE WILLING to work with the commission's technical staff on planning a Special Business zone," he stressed.

The commission, according to Associate County Planner George Brenner, continued the matter for two weeks in order to:

1. Obtain a legal opinion from Deputy District Attorney Matthew Walker, who will return from his vacation next week, on whether, as claimed by EBMUD, the Special Business proposal of the commission is null and void because Young's motion of June 23 and the advance legal notice of Wednesday night's hearing specified Retail Business.

2. Determine if amending of the zoning ordinance is made necessary by EBMUD negotiations for sale of parcels to different prospective owners. The Zoning Ordinance requires that a Special Business zone be under a single ownership, Brenner explained yesterday.

AS THE HEARING opened, Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said that EBMUD had informed him that 10 parcels had been sold.

Hupp objected, stating he didn't think that that many parcels had been sold but that offers may have been received by EBMUD.

EBMUD Board President Louis J. Breuner got into the argument, which at one point became so heated that Ward rapped his gavel to restore order.

"OUR SOLE OBJECTIVE," Hupp said yesterday, "is to have the best sort of business district in the Special Business zone.

"EBMUD seems to want the worst type. That's the crux of the matter."

BUT EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland declared yesterday:

"We have been acting in good faith, on the assumption that the commission's June 23 motion meant what it said when Retail Business zoning was specified.

"Now we have a situation where the commissioner who made the motion, Young, apparently didn't understand it was intended for Special Business purposes, and where two of the commissioners who voted for the motion, Honegger and Ward, thought they were voting for something other than what the motion stated."

BRENNER REITERATED yesterday that the intention all along, since June 23, has been for Special Business zoning, which requires building sites to be designated in advance and which generally is understood to involve harmonious architecture and landscaping.

McFarland and Phil Wagner, EBMUD properties division manager, were with Reilley and Breuner at the Wednesday night hearing.

Hupp was accompanied by Boone Robinson and Mitchell Farrar of the Orinda Planning Committee. Also present were five members of the Women's Planning League of Contra Costa County—Mrs. Hupp, Mrs. George Hickok and Mrs. Byron Bole of Orinda and two women from Danville.

PRIOR TO THE hearing, a meeting had been scheduled for last night at Robinson's home, for Orinda Planning Committee members, Orinda Association directors and Associate County Planners Brenner and Richard Stockwell, to discuss master planning for Orinda.

Both Hupp and Brenner yesterday said the meeting was to be held last night.

Horse in Show

Frank J. Dutra, Inc., will enter Wrangler in the hackamore class at the Napa District Fair Horse Show Sunday.

Many outstanding horses of Northern California will compete for trophies on ribbons on Sunday, the last day of the competition.

One Parcel Sold, Four Pending, EBMUD Reports

Sale of one parcel in the Crossroads area has been consummated, two other parcels have been sold but are still in escrow, agreement has been reached regarding a fourth site, and a deposit has been made on a fifth parcel, Phil Wagner, East Bay Municipal Utility District properties division manager, said yesterday.

The parcel for which the deed has definitely been transferred, according to Wagner, is the 6.01-acre site on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, a short distance south of Orinda Village, which Robert H. Bolman, Dr. W. M. Caygill and Jack Buchter purchased for $17,647 for a medical-dental center.

THE NEW OWNERS of this parcel are now offering to rent or lease a building which they say would be built to suit the tenant.

The two parcels sold but still in escrow are for Shell Oil Company, 175 feet on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, 3.02 acres, bought for $34,000, and for Standard Oil, 250 front feet on the same side of the road, .93 of an acre, $46,500. These two were sold on a front footage basis.

Wagner said the deed for the Standard Oil site is expected to be delivered in the next few days.

AGREEMENT HAS been reached for purchase by Jack Snow, for $14,340, for a 3.6-acre parcel between the Bolman property and the Village. Snow has made a deposit, but the transaction has not been finalized.

The Orinda Masonic Building Association has made a deposit on a one-acre-plus site near the Pine Grove, for a Masonic building. No papers have been signed yet, according to Wagner. The site is north of the upper grade school site and south of the Catholic Church property. It will front 200 feet on the proposed Altarinda Road which will lead to San Pablo Dam Road.

BOLMAN EXPLAINED that he and his associates have made their rent-or-lease offer because "we want to do what the community desires."

"The county planning staff has indicated semipublic buildings are desired for the Pine Grove, and a medical building might be suitable there.

"We have plans to put in a very good building on our present site, and we have been approached on behalf of a wide variety of retail establishmenst, including food, clothing, general services and even banks."

Asked if his group would plan for a medical-dental building at the Pine Grove, Bolman said:

YES, WE MIGHT consider that. It would mean we'd have to purchase the land and start all over again."

Associate County Planner George Brenner said yesterday that the county planning staff thought a medical-dental building would be suitable for the Pine Grove, but Acting Chairman James Hupp of the Orinda Planning Commission said:

"A medical-dental building would probably include a pharmacy and a baby shop, so it wouldn't be suitable for the Pine Grove. It should be in a Special Business zone."

Doyle to Ask Park Body to Preserve Church

Assemblyman Donald Doyle will go to Monterey today to appear before the State Park Commission in an effort to have the old Santa Maria Catholic Church preserved as a shrine in the state park system.

The monthly meeting of the commission will be presided over by Chairman J. R. Knowland of Oakland.

The church, located on Miner Road across from the Orinda Country Club golf course, was established about 70 years ago on land belonging to the De Laveaga family. The De Laveagas donated the land to the Catholic Church.

Both Protestants and Catholics from Orinda have approached Doyle to see if the building and grounds could be preserved.

If the commission decides to act, the church will become a state park.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

SOME OLD BIRD PASSED THROUGH town and left one of his very young relatives on the dole. Other areas are equipped to take care of this sort of thing but there is no proper agency in our serene community for the uninvited indigent — result — local lady and young neighbor gentleman jump into the gap (in the middle of Orchard Road) and rescued the unfortunate one.

Mrs. C. C. Rea and Bob Dwight found a baby bird in the street — obviously too young to go it alone. They rigged up a haven in the Rea garage out of a box and an old pair of overalls and then the business of feeding began. Dwight Sr. being an old fisherman knew where a couple of worms were lurking in the garden — had probably wanted some good reason to demolish same for a long time.

It's easy . . . all you have to be is a mother!

Mrs. Dwight tried unsucessfully to feed the birdie the worm without choking either one of them so guess what — almost at the moment of despair — the mother bird — not an old bird passing through town after all — fluttered into the garage and fed birdie a worm of her own choosing — a grade A homogenized worm full of vitamin B probably. The human audience was pop eyed with amazement because, as you know, it is most unusual for a mother bird to go near her young after human interference. Now isn't that just the "linnet?"

Between bird watching operations on Tuesday last Mrs. Dwight managed to work in a delightful luncheon with covers for eight. Now "covers for eight" is an expression long since defunct for society items but, inasmuch as the Dwights had nothing on their minds but birds and covers for same it seems quite appropriate.

Parlez-vous Francais? Honk, honk!

From peep-peep to Beep-Beep. Fancy yourself being transplanted from Orinda to Paris and immediately given a foreign car to drive through the busy French capital in hopes of finding your hotel. Dr. and Mrs. Jefferson Larkey, on their recent trip to Europe had arranged to pick up a Citroen the day of their arrival.

Their train tooted into the Gare St. Lazarre about noon and then they discovered to their horror that there was a taxi srike on and they couldn't get to the Citroen plant which is just outside Paris.

FOOD ALWAYS HELPS the desperate so they went into a tiny family style restaurant for lunch and the proprietor became so sympathetic to their problem that he spent two hours away from the restaurant business to track down a taxi and make plans for the non-French speaking Larkeys with the Parisian driver. They arrived at the Citroen factory and sat themselves in the small car just off the production line and off they went on a whirligig tour through the streets of Paris, not knowing where they were going but they got there just the same.

One exciting time was trying to get onto the circular Etoile where you toot-honk-beep and make a run for it — then you go around several times more than is actually necessary in order to toot-honk-beep and make a lunge off it and hope to goodness you have landed in the right street. Anyway, after the original excitement they had a wonderful trip and are at home and Mrs. Larkey is grandmother-sitting.

Pretty sharp gal, regardless of age

And speaking of grandmother-sitting — another grandmother, Mrs. Harry Holabird is here from her home in Southern California to sit, not with her children and grandchildren who were vacationing in Feather River, but with Chico, the chihuahua who was vacationing in the front yard.

Liking children as she does, she attracted the four young ones of the neighboring Alan Grays — ie. — Patty, Johnny, Ted and Cathey . . . They had charming times together and finally one of the young Grays, as children will, said "How old are you?" and Mother Holabird's prompt reply was "I'm as old as my big toe, and a little older than my teeth!"

About this point Mr. Newspaper begins to get nervous if we don't throw in some straight news — he hasn't had to cope with us for several weeks and the chances are he might be slightly indulgent, however, there is no point in pushing our luck too far so — comes it the news — Home from Feather River, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Andreason and Claudia — also Mrs. Frank Fee who played golf with the previously mentioned Mr. A. but it just happens we are a good subject for bribery so will mentfon no scores.

And watch out, here come the names!

The Art Johnsons are home from Nevada and way points but son Rick and Norman Tuttle are in Europe. The Beach Deans and Mary are home from Fallen Leaf Lake but the Donald Krotz' and Roberta and Douglas are still in Honolulu. The Stephen Jensens with Tia, Mark, Jonothan and Stephanie are home from a right ranchy time in Wyoming, the Paul Demeters and Bill and Carolyn are home from Albequerque and the Arthur Boehms are either still in or just home from Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Dorothy Lamb and Lennie are visiting their ranch, and the A. D. Henry family are obviously out of town because their lawn is being watered by "Butch" Guarneri which is a far cry from trumpet playing. The George Parnhans are home from Scott's Ranch in Trinity Alps and we had another pretty snappy item about somebody written on one of the numerous slips of paper which seems to clutter up our life but it has disappeared — probably filched for a canasta score pad by the young — so you will just have to wait 'til next week.

Orinda Reserves Lead Training

A hot and dusty 15 days' duty ended on Sunday for the 305th Logistical Command.

This local Army Reserve Unit completed the second week of its summer training at the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, southwest of King City, California.

Major Frank J. Thomas of Orinda is the staff officer in charge of all personnel maters. Captain Clinton E. Paine of Orinda is the Plans and Operations Officer of the Logistics Section of the 305th.

One of the main features of the training periods was an all-inclusive test in basic military subjects. All of the trainees in the 305th took the test, being examined in such subjects as: operating an Army radio; taking apart and putting together a machine gun; and arming and emplacing an anti-tank mine.

The 305th now goes back to its year 'round routine of meeting every Tuesday night at the Presidio in San Francisco. Men and women in the unit receive one day's pay for each meeting attended, in addition to full pay and allowance for the 15-day summer training period.

Orinda Pair Travel Through Northwest

They spent a couple of days in the Trinity Alps near Trinity Center, Calif., visiting friends. They report a beautiful trip with fine weather all the way except for one exceptionally hot day in Redding on the way home.

Cub's Overnight

Cub Scout Pack 211 is busy packing up for its annual father and son overnight on Mt. Diablo tomorrow.

Fathers and sons are to arrive tomorrow noon complete with sleeping bags, eating utensils and their own man-sized steaks. The Cubs enenjoy this first pre-Scouting camping experience with the fun of cooking and sleeping outdoors.

At night car headlight signals are flashed between the Cubs and the womenfolk and small fry at home from atop Mt. Diablo to the top of Tappan Lane in Orinda. The big campfire with singing and stories is a real thrill. After lights-out and the giggling and whispering have died down, many a father finds his sleeping bag suddenly invaded by his own small cub who swears he just saw the real thing—right up in that tree!

The hungry woodsmen are traditionally served a Sunday breakfast of flapjacks, hash browns and eggs by Dr. Roger Stark, the local Chef of the West.

Reservations can be made with Cubmaster Don Hutchinson at CLifford 4-2033.

School Schedule Clarified (Sheaff, Editor Hope So!)

There are days in the life of a school superintendent which seem even worse, to the superintendent, than the fate of a newspaper editor, although the editor might dispute that. Such a day was last Friday, when Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff phoned to say that:

1. The article on next semester's class schedules, in last week's SUN, erroneously stated that primary grade children in the El Toyonal, San Pablo Dam Road and Orinda Estates areas "will attend Sleepy Hollow School." (They will attend Del Rey Cchool.)

2. Orinda School was erroneously described as having "fourth through sixth grade" classes—thereby leaving seventh and eighth grade classes as an unsolved mystery, until the final paragraph of the article.

Besides that, Sheaff had decided on a couple of changes since the information for last week's article had been obtained, so he and the editor agreed that, for the sake of clarification, a complete new article was warranted.

HERE'S THE SCHEDULE for next semester:

Double sessions will be in effect for first and second grades at Del Rey and Sleepy Hollow Schools and for first grade at Glorietta School.

Del Rey School will have kindergarten through sixth grade classes; Glorietta, kindergarten through sixth grade; Sleepy Hollow, kindergarten through fourth grade; Orinda, fourth through eighth grades.

PRIMARY GRADE children living in the El Toyonal, San Pablo Dam Road and Orinda Estates areas will attend Del Rey School, as they have been doing.

Class hours will be:

GLORIETTA SCHOOL—fourth through sixth grades, 8:15 a.m.-2:10 p.m. First grade double sessions: Morning, 8:15-12:15; afternoon, 11-3. Second and third grades, 8:15-1:30. Kindergarten: Morning, 8:15-11; afternoon, 12:15-3

SLEEPY HOLLOW SCHOOL—Kindergarten: Morning, 8:45-11:30; afternoon, 12:25-3:20. First and second grade double sessions: Morning, 8:45-12:30; afternoon, 12:30-4:15. Third grade, 8:45-2. Fourth grade, 8:45-3:20.

DEL REY SCHOOL—Kindergarten: Morning, 8:45-11:30; afternoon, 12:25-3:20. First and second grade double sessions: Morning, 8:45-12:30; afternoon, 12:30-4:15. Third grade, 8:45-2. Fourth through sixth grades, 8:45-3:20.

ORINDA SCHOOL—fourth through eighth grades, 9:15-3:45.

Emergency Polio Drive to To Get Underway Monday

The Contra Costa County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis joins the more than 3100 other chapters across the nation in the Emergeny March of Dimes, to be conducted from August 16 through 31, it was announced today by Eugene Marshall, local chapter chairman.

"Nationally," Marshall reported, "it will be neeessary to raise approximately $20 million in this special drive if the foundation is to carry on its program of research, and financial assistance for polio victims.

"THE FOUNDATION does not like to carry on a 'scare' program in drives of this type, yet I believe the people of this couny should know where they stand in the first six months of this year with regard to polio," Marshall added.

"As of July 29, 108 cases of polio were treated in this county. Richmond had 11; San Pablo, El Cerrito, El Sobrante and Crockett accounted for 9 cases; there were 11 in Martinez, 10 in Orinda and Lafayette, 39 in Pleasant Hill and Concord, five in Danville, two in Antioch, six in Pittsburg, and none in Byron, Brentwood, and Bethel Island.

"These cases were reported in what might be called 'the off-season' for polio. The 'regular' season for polio will be starting in a few weeks, and if the funds are not available for proper treatment during the disease, to say nothing of rehabilitation treatment after the disease, the cost will be reckoned in lives," Marshall concluded.

IN ALL REPORTED cases of polio, the Contra Costa Chapter offers to pay for the patient's medical expenses in full or in part, to insure that the family will not have to reduce its standard of living materially. As of July, 1954, a total of 330 patients were being assisted financially by the local chapter. 78 of these are new cases, and 252 are from former years.

"The money is urgently needed," Marshall explained, "If we are to be able to care for the needs of new cases which will undoubtedly occur during the 'regular' polio season.

"Give — and give generously to this emergency drive. For although you may not like to face an unpleasant fact — it may be a member of your own family that you will ultimately be helping!"

CAPWELL'S WALNUT CREEK HIGH SCHOOL BOARD FOR 1954 — Eight young teens will represent the Contra Costa high schools at Capwell's High School Fashion Show starting at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Las Lomas High School gym in Walnut Creek. The girls and the schools they represent are, left to right: Back row — Janis Armstrong, Acalanes; Joan Alexander, Alhambra; Janet Kay, Antioch; Carole Yeager, Las Lomas; seated — Carol Pearson, Pittsburg; Emily Martin, Pleasant Hill; Sonja Schultz, San Ramon; Janice Beck, Mt. Independent Child Adoption Now Being Handled Locally

Independent, or "non-agency" child adoptions, previously handled by the State Welfare Department are being handled in Contra Costa County by the county Adoption Unit as of August 1, according to a statement issued by W. G. Golden, Social Service Director.

Commenting on this assumption of additional responsibility by the Contra Costa County Adoption Unit, Mrs. Foster Davis, Concord, President of the Adoption Auxiliary (East county branch) stated, "We, as a citizens' group, are pleased to see this consolidation of the two adoption programs, as we believe, with the Social Service Department, that it will result not only in better service to adopting parents, but also in closer coordination between the functions of the agency and those of the local courts.

"WE HAVE FOLLOWED with interest the development of professional seryices to children, and to both natural and adoptive parents in the county Adoption Unit, since its activation in July, 1950, at which time it was set up to take care of relinquishment, or "agency", adoptions only."

Mrs. Howard T. Pettit, President of the Richmond branch of the Adoption Auxiliary, added this comment, "It should be made clear that, in taking over the independent adoption program, the Adoption Unit has in no way changed its original program of agency adoptions, in which the natural parents relinquish the child to the agency, where the child's needs are carefully studied and every effort made to place the child according to thes eneeds."

THE FUNCTION OF the Adoption Unit in independent adoptions, in which the natural parents have placed the child directly with adoptive parents, will consist chiefly of making the necessary investigations and recommendation to the court, it was pointed out.

Golden notes, "Heretofore it has been necessary for parents to travel to San Francisco to sign the consent. This will now be accomplished in the office of the Adoption Unit. Additionally, this service being localized will provide improved service to petitioners (adoptive parents) in that the investigative phase of the process will be accomplished more easily."

Golden also praised the work of the Contra Costa County Citizens Advisory Committee on Adoption and its Auxiliary chapters, saying, "This work of the Committee is an outstanding example of how interested and informed citizens can strengthen the progress of a county agency."

Earthquake Jolts County

A sharp short earthquake felt only in Contra Costa County and centered between Walnut Creek and Martinez was recorded on the University of California seismograph at 6:24 a. m. Wednesday.

No reports of damage have been made, though several local residents reported feeling the shock. The quake had a magnitude of 3 on the Richter scale, according to assistant seismologist Barbara Amberson.

Christian Science

That true happiness is to be found through understanding the spiritual laws which govern the universe, including man, will be brought out at services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The spiritual nature of happiness is set forth in the following passage which will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (60:29-2:

"Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and our keeping, if sought in Soul. Higher enjoyments alone can satisfy the cravings of immortal man. We cannot circumscribe happiness within the limits of personal sense."

The prophet Isaiah's promise of peace and joy to those who spiritually understand God will be included in the reading from the Bible (Isaiah 55:12): "For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

CHILDREN IN CAR

Don't let small children stand up on the front seat of your car, advises the National Automobile Club. A sudden stop can hurl them against the dashboard and cause serious injury.

Over 140 Groups OK Fluorides In Water Supply

"More than 140 Contra Costa groups have endorsed fluoridation," declared Dr. Lyall O. Bishop, president of the Contra Costa Dental Society, in describing widespread support for this public health measure which is now demonstrating that it effectively prevents a significant amount of dental decay.

Dr. Bishop stated that the list included the Contra Costa Dental Society, Alameda - Contra Costa Medical Association, the County Health Department, Contra Costa church groups, Chambers of Commerce, Junior Chambers of Commerce, city councils, civic and improvement associations, health groups, labor unions, parent groups, service clubs, veterans' organizations, women's groups and many others.

The Dental Society president noted that: "The nine-year-old fluoridation program in the Canadian city of Brantford, Ontario, has resulted in an over-all reduction in dental decay of 53.7 per cent in the permanent teeth of boys and girls in the age group of 5 to 15.

Citing the benefits, safety, and wide support for fluoridation, Dr. Bishop recommended that the early development of fluoridation of all Contra Costa water supplies should be a goal of each community or groups of communities served by one water supply.

Plans Made to Honor UN Day

Plans for the observance of United Nations Day in Contra Costa County October 24 were discussed last night at a meeting in Mt. Diablo High School, Concord.

The meeting was the second in a series sponsored in the area by the U. S. Committee for UN Day.

Representatives from some 23 organizations of Concord, Walnut Creek, Danville and Antioch attended the first meeting in Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company Community Room in Walnut Creek July 22.

Harry Kublin of the Valley Unitarian Fellowship presented background material to the meeting saying that interest in the UN is more important than ever as the charter will be reviewed in 1955.

Some of the activities suggested by the national committee include special church services as the day falls on a Sunday, a public speaking contest and a lecture series.

CCSD Calls for Clayton Valley Annexation Vote

A September 28 election date was set August 5 for the proposed Clayton Valley Election by Central Contra Costa Sanitary District directors.

All protests for exclusion of property were rejected by the board and public hearings were closed, leaving the boundaries as filed by the petitioners.

The Clayton Valley proposed annexation covers approximately 10 square miles and 4000 acres in Clayton and Ygnacio Valleys.

DESPITE CONTINUED objections by Director Ernest Spiegl, the board approved annexation to the district of Los Palos Estates Unit 2 and 106 acres of the Norstrom estate on Pleasant Hill Road.

Spiegl maintained that no further annexations should be approved until the district's internal problems are solved. The Los Palos annexation was approved 3 to 2, and the Nordstrom property 3 to 1.

A SPECIAL MEETING was called for August 26 to discuss expansion problems within the district and the expenditure of funds to be gained from the 60-cent tax rate, part of which will go for a detailed engineering study of district needs.

The sanitary district insignia was ordered painted on all district cars and trucks.

Camera Fans Plan Excursion

The Northern California Council of Camera Clubs will hold a Cameracade to Boyes Springs this weekend, with many members of the Contra Costa Camera Club making the trip.

The tour is open to all photographers and their families. In recent competitions Owen Pearce took fifth place honors in the class B color division of the interclub competition held at South Francisco; Jim Hokanson took first place in class A color and Irene Spencer took second place in the same competition.

The August black and white meet will be held at Walnut Creek at Las Lomas High School August 20 at 8 p.m. with the Contra Costa Camera Club host for the interclub competition.

County Reaches Cancer Drive Goal

Contra Costa County has reached its 1954 Cancer Crusade goal, it was announced today by Irving H. Magill, chairman of the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Lafayette and Walnut Creek went over their respective goals; Orinda was less than $5 short.

LAFAYETTE RAISED $1216.50 (quota - $1200); Walnut Creek raised $2317.67 (quota - $2100); Orinda raised $1195.90 (quota - $1200).

Magill expressed gratitude to all who have contributed so far, and expressed the hope that because contributions are still being received, the society's local campaign this year may reach 105 per cen of goal.

"Public response to this year's American Cancer Society appeal has been most heartening," Magill said. "Although our national goal this year was set at $20,000,000, it became apparent even before the start of the campaign that at least $25,000,000 would be required to carry out all of the cancer control projects needed.

"LAST YEAR many important research projects had to be cancelled because of an insufficiency of funds. There is hope that this year a crisis will be less likely to arise."

Magill pointed out that the American Cancer Society, which is supported entirely by free-will contributions from the public, is leading the nation's fight against cancer with a threefold program of research, education and service.

The Contra Costa County Branch of the American Cancer Society this yast year was a member of the United Crusades in the Richmond, Antioch and Pittsburg areas. The Contra Costa County branch this past year was not a member of the East Bay United Crusade and the branch will again this year carry on its own independent drive during April in the Diablo area as well as in Crockett and Brentwood.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Episcopal

During the vacation absence of their vicar, members of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will attend Sunday services conducted by the Reverend Thomas Gordon Luke, Berkeley poet and educator, who will preach in Orinda until September 5, when the Reverend Charles Hill returns to his congregation.

A minister on the West Coast for almost 30 years, Reverend Luke was leader of Trinity parish in Oakland in 1926, and journeyed northward to Yreka and Colfax, Washington, where he served a combined nine years before returning to the Bay area as minister of San Leandro's All Saints Church.

WRITING POETRY throughout his career as a clergyman, he won awards for various compositions, among them the coveted Emily Chamberlain Cook prize for poetry. Because of his distinction in the field of literature, he was selected a member of the faculty of Williams College in Berkeley, which was founded by Cora Williams for especially talented students, at the same time assisting the Rev. Millard at Christ Church in Alameda.

Reverend Hill, regular vicar at St. Stephen's, is at the present time teaching classes of young people at Camp Galilee, on the shore of Lake Tahoe, the summer camp founded by Bishop William F. Lewis for his Missionary Diocese of Nevada.

MR. HILL, together with Mrs. Hill and their three children Jim, Judy and Don, will stay at Camp Galilee for a two-week period, after which they will relax in a fishing and camping trip in Desolation Valley on Wright Lake.

There will be no resumption of the 11 a.m. service until September 12, when Sunday School registration will be held.

Friday Holy Communion services will be discontinued until September 10.

Community

Rev. Fred Morrow, who has been spending his vacation with his wife and son in the High Sierras returns this week and announces that his sermon subject will be "Up Hill—Down Hill." The service is at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel of the Orinda Community Church.

Young people attend the service in the chapel and children of elementary school age are provided with a special visual program under the supervision of P. O. Monosmith. The theme for the visual program is "This Is My Father's World."

Music for Sunday's service will include a duet by Mrs. Molly Nelson, soprano, and Mrs. Jeanne Watkins, contralto, who will sing "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by Hawley.

Other music for the service will include "Erotik" by Greig, "Thou Art Lovely as a Flower" by Shumann, and "Angelus" by Massenet.

Presbyterian

The Park Theater in Lafayette will be the meeting place of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church Sunday and services will begin at 11:15 a.m.

The Rev. William Carl Thomas has chosen for his sermon topic "Faith in Humanity." This is the fifth in a series under the general theme "Alernatives to Christianity."

Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. Classes will be held in the same homes in Lafayette as in the past two Sundays.

There are two more new members' classes in the series of four. These will be held Sunday and August 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas, 10 Oak Drive, Orinda. Anyone planning to come into the church as a charter member should attend these classes.

Wednesday evenings are Town Hall nights for the church and young people gather in homes to discuss the work of the church and to share their mutual needs in prayer. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

Carnations Bloom Until Late Fall

Think of a spicily fragrant perennial that blooms from late spring to late fall in solid colors of white, pink, rose, red and yellow and striped combinations of these colors — and that is particularly popular for corsages and boutonnieres!

Got it?

The answer is "Carnation."

Carnations do exceptionally well throughout most of California. The plant itself is shrubby-branched and grows one to three feet in height, with narrow blue-gray leaves and long stems usually topped with double blooms.

According to the California Association of Nurserymen, carnations may be had from nurseries in three forms:

The Enfant de Nice and Chabaud strains may be had as seedlings in flats, and will produce flowers in an assortment of colors and sizes.

The second type is Carnation cuttings, which nurseries have in pinks, reds and whites already established in flats.

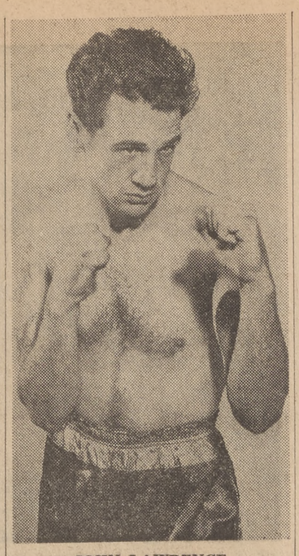

Name-carnation varieties are available in a third form, set in small individual pots.

Why Pansies Are Leading Bedding Plant in State

Pansies are the leading bedding plant in California nurseries, according to the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board. There are reasons for this popularity.

One of the most important reasons is apparent when we see the beautiful, shining faces of some field-grown pansies. This appealing show of color is available in a very short time by planting out a flat of pansy transplants.

The main contribution of bedding plants to the garden is quick color.

JOHN LAWRENCE

Local Fighter is In Main Event of Post Boxing Card

Walnut Creek boxer John Lawrence will battle Vinne Hines of Pittsburg in a grudge match in the main event of Walnut Creek American Legion Post sponsored boxing bouts tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Veterans Memorial Hall.

THE TWO FIGHTERS faced each other two months ago in a Pittsburg ring when Hines outpointed Lawrence for a decision. According to reports, the judge's findings were unpopular and were booed for a full 10 minutes by the crowd following announcement.

The contest will also be the last for the local leather slinger in amateur status on home grounds. He plans two more amateur bouts in other towns and then he will turn professional.

In the semi-final bout, Tannie Lee of San Francisco will slug it out with Manuel Grandas of Oakland while Belting Billy Brown of Oakland will take on Chick Santoya of Pittsburg in a special event.

IKE AVILLA of Pittsburg will match fistic prowess with Ronnie Westry in a match which should feature top light-heavyweight action. In the last Legion bouts, Avilla was presented with the most popular fighter trophy after he won by a knockout in the fourth round.

Other bouts will feature Ken Freeman vs. Curtis Hewitt and Don Foley vs. Paul Villabobos.

General admission is $1 and ringside reserves are available at Las Palmas Bar, Voodoo Village, Rose's Liquor Store and at the door for $1.50.

Broken Ankle, 10-Inning Tie, Protest Game Included in Week of WC Softball

By ERWIN MATTSON

The past week of softball play in the Walnut Creek league produced a little bit of everything, including a protested game, a 10-inning tie, a broken ankle and a dash of cold weather.

The race for second half honors is a mad one with the issue, in all probability, not being decided until the final week of play, and from the look of things, protest playoffs could well decide the eventual winner.

WEDNESDAY'S opener found Gene Bell hurling Tinys Hut to a 5-3 win over Ricks Drive Inn. Bell racked up six strikeouts and walked three, while Claude Bolender led in the strikeout department with nine, while giving four bases on balls.

Ricks took the lead when they scored two in the opening frame, only to have Tinys tie it up with a pair of their own in the third.

Tinys came back with two runs in the fifth and another in the sixth, while Ricks managed a run in the bottom of the sixth.

Lyle Palmer, ace shortstop for Tinys, paced the winners at the plate while Gus Teicheira had the big bat for Ricks as he banged out two doubles in three times at the plate.

TINYS WAS STRUCK a blow in the fifth when Catcher Nick Cinevich suffered a broken ankle when he stole home on a passed ball. The injury was his fourth of the season and retired him from play for the year.

In the nightcap, Forbrags had their hands full when State Farm put on a rally of their own only to lose out 6-5 with Art Heasel being credited with the win as he whiffed 10 and walked three. Bill Jagem, on the mound for the Farm nine, struck out one and walked four.

Forbrags took an early lead only to have the Farm club score five runs in the fifth to tie it at five-all with Forbrags scoring the winning run in the sixth and that proved to be the difference as the time limit rule closed the game at the sixth grame.

HAROLD "PEANUTS" Vincent was the hitter for the winners as he banged out a double and a single in two official times at bat. State Farm had no one with more than one safety with first baseman Cowden and right fielder Anderson sharing honors as each accountetd for a double.

Tuesday's first game found Grodins and Super Saver crossing bats and when it was all over the Super Saver team had carved out a 9-5 win on 16 hits to Grodins five.

In the error column, it was two-all. Grodins was ahead 3-0 until the third when Super Saver scored seven runs on eight hits with everyone but the bat boy getting a turn at the plate.

LOSING HURLER Johnny Daylong struck out three while walking nary a man while winner John Henson set down an even dozen on strikeouts while walking six.

Frank Lentz paced the winners as he had a perfect four for four in the hit department with three singles and a triple to his credit.

The loser's top hitters were Daylong, who had threeliikatheirsl tg long, and right fielder Orville White, who banged out a homer with one on in the fifth.

The game was called with Super Saver out in front, 9-5, in the sixth on the time limit rule.

IN THE SECOND GAME Tri City of Rodeo did anything but play ball as the Sebastopol Merchants walloped them 16-0 in an exhibition tilt.

Monday found Tiny's on the short end as Forbrags dumped them 5-2. In the hit column, Forbrags lead with six safeties to four, while Tinys committed three miscues to the winners' one.

Art Heasel was the mound ace as he struck out 13 and showed perfect control with no walks. In the loser's corner, Gene Bell struck out four and issued two bases on balls.

THE GAME had to go extra innings when Dick Gorden of Tiny's hit a four-base blow with one on in the seventh to knot the count aftter Forbrags had led 2-0.

Forbrags' two runs scored in the first when leadoff man Ken Jones hit a homer and Hec Miles scored run number two when he singled and came in on DeMello's hit.

Miles got into the act again in the eighth when he put one out of the lot. Swede Anderson followed with a run when he was on via an error and came home on DeMello's hit.

"Grappo" Graziano was on via a fielder's choice and scored the inning's third run when second baseman Lynn Morence overthrew first on the ensuing play and Forbrags had the ball game.

Forbrags' Hec Miles with his home run and a single was the big stick.

IN THE NIGHTCAP, fans saw a bang-up game that went 10 innings and the game was called at that point with neither team being able to register a run. Each club had three hits with no player getting more than one single.

Claude Bolender of Ricks struck out 13 and gave up two walks while Lou Mozzini of Tri-City had 17 strikeouts and four walks. Each team had two errors to round out an even-steven contest which will be replayed at a future date.

Last Friday, Forbrags and Super Saver tangled and while the eventual score found the market lads in front 5-3, it all went for naught when a fifth-inning protest was upheld by the protest committee, meaning the game will be played from the point of protest.

Forbrags was leading at the protest point, 3-0. Harold "Peanuts" Vincent of Forbrags came home from second on a passed ball and in doing so collided with Super Saver catcher Ralph Ligon, who dropped the ball when he went down.

UMPIRE MANNY COTLOW called Vincent out, a beef was on and the protest followed.

In the nightcap, Ricks came through with a seventh-inning run to cop a 5-4 decision over State Farm. It was tied up 4-4 at the end of six, when Johnny Nonne decided the issue with a top of the seventh home run for Ricks.

In the bottom of the seventh, pitcher Claude Bolender took things into his own hands as he set the opposition down in apple pie order.

Johnny Nonne with two for two, a home run and a single, and Claude Bolender with three for three, a double and two singles, were tops in the hitting for Ricks.

Mid Fortney was the bright light for State Farm as he racked up two singles.

Horsement Plan Potluck Tonight

The Contra Costa Horsemen's Association will hold a potluck dinner today at 7:30 p.m. at the Don Fernando Pacheco Adobe in Concord.

All members and their guests are invited, according to club president Ted Albro. Hosts for the affair will be Gus and Alice Poggi and Monte and Edna Petrie.

Santa Fe Railway to Make Awards to 4-H

Educational awards and college scholarships will be made again this year to outstanding 4-H Club boys and girls in California, it was announced yesterday by Santa Fe Railways.

A program approved by President Fred G. Gurley of Santa Fe provides for seven educational awards of $240 each and two $250 scholarships, one each to a boy and a girl. The awards represent an increase of two over those made last year.

Lutz Due for Hard-top Win

Followers of Fred Lutz, veteran Walnut Creek hard top pilot, feel that the local leadfoot finally has shaken his jinx and should be in the thick of contention in tonight's 25-lap feature race at Contra Costa Stadium.

Plagued by mechanical trouble and two bad crackups in previous weeks, Lutz turned in his best performance of the season last Friday. The Walnut Creek ace finished fourth in the semi-main behind the "cream" of the BCRA, Keith Willis of Hayward, 1952 champion; Lou Bernardoni of San Francisco, holder of several track records around the BCRA circuit, and Bill Maher of Vallejo, 1953 titlist.

CHECK THOSE LIGHTS

When driving at night be sure those rear lights are burning, advises the National Automobile Club. Blinded by glare of oncoming headlights, drivers find it difficult to see a car ahead unless the warning red lights are burning brightly.

Pupil Enrollment Increase Will Continue -- Wilson

Enrollment increase in Contra Costa County school when classes resume next month will probably duplicate the 5000-per-year growth that has prevailed for the past several years, County Superintendent B. O.- Wilson stated today.
B. O. Wilson stated today .
1954 over 1953 was 5171, one of the largest numerical increases in the state. The rate of increase of 7.1 per cent, however, was lower than the general state gain of 8 per cent.
TOTAL CONTRA COSTA enrollment for all grades, kindergarten through junior college, was 78,224 on March 31 of this year, with the county maintaining fourth place in school population among the 58 counties.
Of the total, 61,668 were elementary grade students, 14,556 high school students and 2000 enrolled in Contra Costa Junior College.
As an indication of how the increased birth rate since World War II has pushed school enrollment figures upward, Wilson cited the fact that kindergarten and the first two grades account for nearly one-third of the entire school enrollment.
"THIS ENROLLMENT of 25,636 is in contrast to only 10,079 students in the last three grades of high school. Such bunching up in the lower grades is even more significantly shown by the contrast between 8527 children in kindergarten and 2543 high school seniors. Nearly four times as many children entered school as left," Wilson commented.
Suburban areas with a high proportion of young families anticipate the largest increases when school re-opens—in a majority of districts on Tuesday September 7. Mt. Diablo Unified District alone expects 2000 new pupils.

SPOTLIGHTING THE STRIP

Many reminders around and about that summer is almost a thing of the past. Faded bathing-suits and fading summer tans . . . days getting shorter . . . fall fashions in store windows . . . mothers shopping for children's school clothing . . . and on BLAKESLEY'S furniture store window in Lafayette the sign, "DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING NOW." Anybody for winter???
My mail bag contained a card from ROSEMARY and FREDDIE BOLOGNIA, who closed the PIZZERIA for a two week vacation. They went to Los Angeles, and on the way visited all the California missions. Then south to Mexico, and on the way home, will go to Yosemite. Sent their best to all their customers.
The PIZZERIA will be open by the time you read this. Maybe you can talk the BOLOGNIAS into a showing of the movies they were going to take of their trip.
Ever had hide-a-pie?? What's that?? Go into RICHIE'S ICE CREAM STORE and FOUNTAIN and ask for this original confection. This is pie covered with huge slabs of ice cream. You can't see the pie, hence the name, HIDE-A-PIE.
JACK BAKER made brandied peach for all of you who like something different in ice cream. You can have breakfast at RICHIE'S and soup and sandwiches any time until 11 p.m.

Swim Class at Las Lomas High

Due to popular demand a second session of the Acalanes evening swimming class for adults started August 10 at 7:30 p.m., it was announced today by the Director of Adult Education, A. D. Dambacher.
These classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. at the new Las Lomas High School pool. The instruction will consist of basic swimming instruction for non-swimmers and beginners, basic instruction for advanced beginners and intermediate, and life saving and water safety for advanced swimmers.
Those adults interested may register for the course at the time they attend the first meeting. Registration fees are $1.50 which also entitles the registrant to participate in any of the other non-tuition classes offered during the summer quarter.
Other classes being offered by the Acalanes Adult Center include upholstery, which is being held mornings, afternoons and evenings on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday of each week; play production held Monday evenings, and weaving held Monday mornings and evenings.
In addition to these classes there are two section of folk dancing held on Monday and Thusrday evenings, and one social dancing class held on Tuesday evenings. These latter tuition classes are paid for by the participants.
Late registrations are being accepted in nearly all of these classes. For further information call ATlantic 3-6262.

Minor Polio Epidemic-What to Do

What might well be called a minor epidemic of polio is occurring in our area.

That statement is made advisedly, with full appreciation of the soundness of the observation of Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, that there is no cause for undue alarm.

At the same time, it is important that we recognize the fact that there are more than just the usual summertime number of polio cases in Central Contra Costa County and throughout the county as a whole.

By recognizing this, we accomplish two important results:

1. We avoid polio.

1. We avoid panic.

necessary precautions.

It's true that out of this area's vast population, 12 cases in Orinda this year, five in Lafayette, nine in Walnut Creek and 19 in Pleasant Hill and Saranap are a very small percentage. These figures are part of the 138 countywide total since January 1—also a figure not to cause worry.

But throughout the county 40 new cases have been reported during the past few weeks, and Dr. Blum says:

"There is no question that we're having more cases than we have had before, up to this time, and they're primarily in the central part of the county."

Precautions to observe during polio season are:

1. Don't get overtired—get plenty of rest.

2. Don't get chilled.

3. Don't mix with new groups.

4. Keep clean.

5. Eat well—be sure your diet is well-balanced and nutritious.

6. If you feel sick, stay home and get off your feet, and consult your doctor.

Existence of a more than usual amount of polio in the area underscores the urgency of the emergency March of Dimes, which will start Monday and will continue through August 31. March of Dimes machinery, both local and national, is in danger of grinding to a halt because of lack of funds, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Contributions to the regular March of Dimes in January fell 20 million dollars short of the national need for 1954. Funds were wiped out in paying for patient care, the vaccine trials and gamma globulin.

Dr. Blum points out that there is a greater percentage of paralytic cases than in the past—but, also, that more is known today about finding paralysis than a year or two ago.

Cases are now being diagnosed as polio which formerly, with lesser knowledge, would not have been so diagnosed.

"The percentage of severely paralyzed cases is less, but the net severity is about the same," he says.

All of which adds up to the need for us to be aware of the situation, take proper precautions and aid in the fight against polio.

MARCH OF DIMES FUNDS ARE EXHAUSTED.
GIVE TO THE EMERGENCY MARCH OF DIMES THIS MONTH!

Water Story Is Told in Brochure

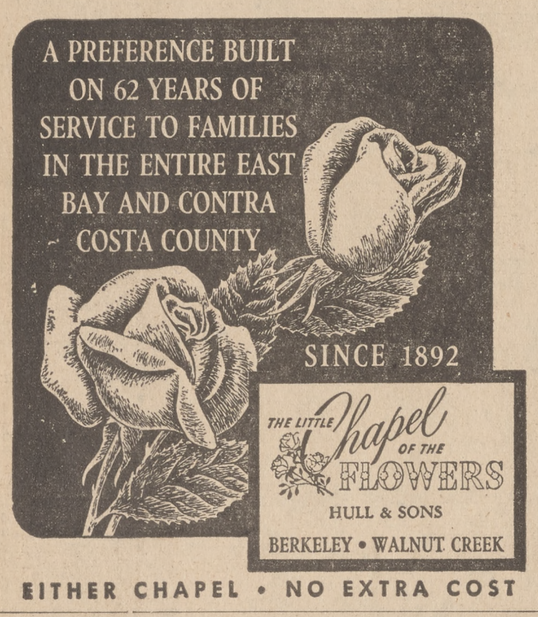

Contra Costa County's water story, covering one of its biggest assets, is being related anew to prospective industries and homeseekers.

Leaders in a movement to get the full water story before the nation, provoked in part by statements of a water shortage here, are William D. McNevin of Richmond, director of East Bay Municipal Utility District, and George Bowersox of Concord, president of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

The association is cooperating with the district and with chambers of commerce and other groups in distributing nationwide a "Water is Plentiful" brochure issued by EBMUD as Exhibit A in the Contra Costa water story.

The four-page folder, prepared by C. P. Tanner, public relations director of EBMUD, contains a map of the area served by EBMUD and the source and provides many facts.

"Neither homeseekers nor industries need be concerned about the East Bay water supply," McNevin said. "We've plenty to serve. And we want industry to know and ask about it, because we have superior water to offer."

How About Cutting Traffic Congestion?

To the poor commuter who must fight the traffic both ways on Mt. Diablo Boulevard morning and night, and to those citizens who find it necessary to travel on the highway during commute hours, some form of traffic relief is an immediate must.

Considering the various possibilities of taking some of the commute load off the highway, The SUN this week called residents to ask them, "Do you think car pools and increased use of Greyhound buses by commuters can materially relieve congestion on Mt. Diablo Boulevard?"

And here is what they say:

"I CERTAINLY DO. That's about all I have to say, but I think it would help a lot," commented Mrs. Max Clauser, 1933 Parkside Drive, Walnut Creek.

"I would think so," said Mrs. Chester Clark, 12 Las Vegas, Orinda, "My husband works in Orinda and we don't commute, but it would probably help those who do drive."

CAPTAIN ANDREW B. COOK, 4061 Lillian Drive, Pleasant Hill, said, "No I don't. I think there has been a lack of planning or preparation for the volume of traffic and it will increase during the next five years. The only answer is increased freeways or a parallel route to help take care of the traffic."

"I know nothing about it," said Mrs. William T. Cline, 7 Ivy Lane, Orinda, "but it seems as if it would help traffic conditions a lot."

"I DON'T KNOW, said Gifford A. Cook, 542 Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill. "With the influx of population it seems like conditions keep getting worse. It might help, but I think the real answer is the Sacramento-Northern Railroad. Back East a good share of the commuters ride inter-urban railways, and they are more pleasant than buses."

MRS. FORREST D. CUMMINGS, 3746 Highland Road, Lafayette, said "Golly, I don't know. I haven't given it much thought, but I would say offhand, no."

Mrs. J. S. Cummings, 2814 Kinney Drive, Walnut Creek, said, "I think that it probably would, although they would need something else along with it. A lot of people are like my husband, and he can't drive with someone else. He has to go alone."

FRANK M. CUNNINGHAM, 836 Eleanor Avenue, Lafayette, said, "I don't think so. I think there's going to have to be another outlet from our little community here to the main cities. Doubling up and more Greyhounds will not reduce traffic enough to make any material difference in the speed with which it can go through the one bottleneck. I think another highway through Shepherd Canyon is the answer."

State Helps Vets Buy Homes, Farms

For the fourth month in a row, farm and home purchases for California veterans involved state assistance amounting to over 7 million dollars in July, according to Lewis K. Gough, chairman of the California Veterans Board.

A Department of Veterans Affairs report shows that 905 properties were purchased for state veterans during July, of which 859 were existing dwellings, 40 were construction loans and six were farms. The state's investment in these properties totalled $7,223,520.

The current acceleration in Cal-Vet financing, Gough said, focuses attention on the $175,000,000 bond issue which will appear as Proposition 1 on the November ballot and when approved will make additional non-tax funds available for the 33-year-old state plan.

A radio powered by sunlight. Man's centuries-old dream of getting power directly from the sun has come true at last. Bell Telephone Laboratories has built a solar battery that directly and efficiently turns sunlight into usable electricity. Made of highly purified silicon—which comes from common sand—the Bell solar battery can run a small radio set (above) or send voices over telephone wires. Telephone people are still testing it. But chances are good that, once they finish, the Bell solar battery will offer great opportunities for improvement and economies in telephone service. Research like this helps us bring better service to more people at the lowest possible cost. Pacific Telephone.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

It is evident that great minds run together — on Friday I received your paper with the comment on discount houses in your "Under the Sun" column, and also the current issue of Life with a feature story on discount houses. I find myself in disagreement with much of your statement and part of Life's statement.

Much of what you say about the operation of discount houses is correct — and people take a chance dealing with them just as they take a chance dealing with unreliable "legitimate" houses . . .

However, I do think you have missed a major point in why discount houses have developed. A discount house could never exist with out a Fair Trade Law.

FAIR TRADE LAWS developed largely as the result of pressure by small druggists through their national and state legislative representatives during the 30's when the philosophies of the NRA were still current.

They violated the basic economics of distribution by trying to make the mandatory minimum price high enough to protect the least efficient (or marginal) retailer — and yet they never really accomplished their goal.

The completely disregard the variations of service provided by the distributor and deny the savings derived from less expensive methods of distribution. For example, the Fair Trade Laws in California require the self-service, cash and carry grocery to charge the same price for many drugs and cosmetic items that are charged by the full service, charge and delivery drug store . . .

NOW, WHEN THE concept of Fair Trade is extended further to such items as major appliances, the penalty on the consumer by denying him the savings of self-service, cash and carry over the costs of full service, charge and delivery become a major one . . .

However, with the difference between the fair trade price and the retailer's cost representing so many dollars, there were bound to be people who could operate on less and make a good profit — these people were bound to find a way to distribute the goods. This, of course, has resulted in the discount houses . . .

. . . Long before discount houses were a national problem, they existed right here . . . and they will continue to exist despite anything that is said. If you want to check this fact, at the next meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce ask how many of the members paid full retail price for their TV sets—and then ask how many got them through fellow merchants on a discount or at cost. I think you will quickly see how the "discount house" operation is right here . . .

THE KEY POINT is that the small dealers — in appliance, furniture and other "big ticket" fields — were always the first to cut fair trade prices in order to get the sale . . .

THE BASIC POINT that is forgotten . . . is that the customer is entitled to obtain goods through the least expensive means of distribution — and when the cost of distribution is artificially maintained at too high a price (which Fair Traded prices attempt to do), then economic pressures will develop and a method of distribution will arise that will permit distributing goods at a lower price and still at a fair profit to the distributor.

The ultimate solution to the discount house problem is . . . in providing goods on a cheaper basis through the normal channels . . .

Under The Sun

Snoopy Saves the day

Snoopy, the office cat, jumped on the desk and purred, "Well, boy, how about an extra plate of milk tonight?"

"And what makes you think you deserve a bonus?" I asked.

"Here's the deal. Today you're supposed to wrestle with your column. Now I've been through your file folder and inbox and have gathered a bunch of notes, clippings, letters and stuff that would make a column. And it's all yours — for the price of some extra chow?"

"Snoopy, you are snoopy — but I'll buy your deal."

So here it is — a pocketful of notes. If you like it, I'll take the credit. If not, blame Snoopy.

Beware of Suicide Lane

Driving on Maniac's Boulevard, also known as Mt. Diablo Blvd., requires care and skill at all times. But this warning from the California Safety Council has prompted me to change my driving habits.

The Council says, "Beware of Suicide Lane. This is the center lane next to the double white line. When you hug the center lane, the distance of separation between you and the oncoming traffic is about 10 inches.

"This means that the slightest loss of control of your car will throw you into a head-on collision. Statistics show that 9 out of 10 cars will, when the brakes are applied hard, skid to the left."

Safety belts for cars

Which reminds me of the newspaper story that my wife clipped out. Eleanor is an advocate of safety belts for auto passengers.

"Speaking before the American Medical Association convention in S. F. recently, Drs. William Halley and George Unfug urged that airplane safety belts should be mounted in all new cars. They said motor injuries and deaths could be strikingly reduced with belts as precautions. They also urged manufacturers to make seats, cushions and doors able to stand collisions equal to 10 to 15 times the force of gravity. The medical group voted a resolution."

Does anyone know if a safety belt for cars is on the market?

Speaking of safety, here's a memo from our editorial desk:

"County Road Chief Vic Sauer says he's most interested in your column on safe driving and kids killed and injured in the neighborhoods. He suggests you might run some sort of an essay contest for kids on the subject of safety."

Sounds like a good idea. But how are we going to reach the real young and the most important group—the drivers!

Radio and TV department

Have you driven to the top of Mt. Diablo lately? If not, you've missed a wonderful sight. If so, you probably noticed construction of the transmitter for station KVOR-TV Stockton, channel 13.

A note I have says this channel will begin its test September 6 with a remote live telecast from the State Fair. It should offer our area good signals, although Berkeley and Oakland will be under the "shadow of Mt. Diablo."

Lindsey Spight of Orinda and his agency represents the new station in selling time. I know Lindsey is working hard to get it on the air. I talked to him last week but forgot to ask for the latest dope.

What's new with the proposed radio station in Walnut Creek? You might have missed the story we carried, reporting that the deal is off. Organizer Arthur Westlund of Reliez Valley said that they just couldn't overcome the technical difficulties — interference with a Santa Rosa station.

It's tough all over

The 1953-54 County Grand Jury took a terrific beating from county, city and other public officials. This Grand Jury did a good job and naturally stepped on toes. The following news item may offer the jurors some consolation in that other juries have had rough treatment, too.

"A Congressional subcommittee reported that San Francisco Grand Juries, attempting to probe tax scandals in 1951, encountered obstructionist tactics from the U. S. attorney and his staff, the Department of Justice in Washington and, to some extent from the local Federal judges as well."

(If you remember, these grand juries finally succeeded in exposing the rotten situation in the S. F. Internal Revenue office.)

"Critical of the official family of officeholders and politicians, the report praised the grand jurors. It declared that their efforts to clean out inefficiency and corruption among San Francisco Federal officials were fully merited by the conditions with which they were confronted."

Caen discovers God's Country

And here's a final clip that my mother-in-law sent. It's written by old Herb Caen of the Examiner:

"WORLDWIDE COVERAGE: In answer to complaints that this column is too insular (what he say?), we spread our tentacles clear out to the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek sector yesterday, and what we came up with is scarcely worth repeating.

"Frexamples: A little red fox came down out of the Orinda hills and was promptly chased by a mob of kids and dogs. Badly harried, the fox retreated onto the property of Jackson (the Furniture Jacksons) and then did a very daring thing. As the crowd closed in, the fox took a deep breath and jumped into the swimming pool. A game warden fished him out, took him back to the hills and released him. Not too exciting, but does a fox in a swimming pool happen EVERY day?

"Other flashes from overseas: The Steven Johnsons of Lafayette announced the birth of their baby girl by draping the tree in front of their house with pink bunting. Same day, the Chick Gandels, who live next door, had three kittens. Or rather, their cat had three kittens. White, except for a black silhouette of Mickey Mouse on their heads.

"And in Walnut Creek, Harold Smith sold a home to Harry Brown via Realtor Glen Jones. Smith, Brown, Jones. If this doesn't prove that Walnut Creek is cosmopolitan, it doesn't prove anything, and I'm inclined to go along with you."
